Dear ADEE members, colleague and friends,
Welcome to ADEE 2021!

While our 2021 experience may not be what we are used to, we are confident that with the assistance and creativity of our colleagues in Strasbourg and the support of the ADEE office and Brag Design & Digital we have developed an interesting, interactive and informative annual session for our members.

We have placed a strong central focus on the work of our colleagues and where possible modifying our familiar formats to a new online environment. So all the regular sessions are included, Posters, Oral Presentations, Topic related papers, Freestage, Invited Speakers, Special Interest Groups and Workshops.

As always we are most appreciative of the ongoing support of our corporate partners without whom all of this would not be possible. We encourage you to visit the online exhibition page and actively engage with our corporate colleagues when you can.

We hope to be back to in person presentation in 2022, but are confident that an online element will remain with us as a new blended model of delivery of ADEE work in the coming months and years. The executive thanks most sincerely, those who are leading out on session for their work and commitment to ADEE and oral health professional's education.

As your President, I wish you an enjoyable meeting and as always we welcome your contact and feedback.

Prof Agnès Bloch-Zupen
Chair of the Strasbourg meeting's local organising committee

Agnès has been Professor of Oral Biology at the University of Strasbourg since 2007. She has a particular interest in rare diseases and is passionate about oral genetics, its teaching and practice.

Dear ADEE friends,

It is my pleasure as chair of the local organising committee of ADEE 2021 to welcome you to our beautiful city at the centre of Europe, Strasbourg. In the words of Ban Ki Moon - Secrétaire de l'Onu – speaking in Strasbourg 2010; "Strasbourg, la capitale démocratique et législative de l'Europe qui a contribué à changer le cours de l'Histoire, a toujours le pouvoir de changer le monde." . It is of course disappointing that we are not getting concentrated time here together in our University and being giving the opportunity to explore all our region has to offer, however we have created a full, highly interactive programme for you to engage with and enjoy.

Our speakers include notable persons from science, politics and innovation all with a strong tie to Strasbourg. A range of topic special interest groups and workshops are also included. And drawing on our meeting theme of 'Networking for dental education', we are enabling many opportunities for us all to gather together between May and August.

For the first time we are bringing you a session delivered in French and also a multi lingual session on the work of ADEE. Both of these innovations tie in with ADEE current work on exploring a new regional structure for the organisation and how we may support members further going forward.

“C’est à Strasbourg que l’esprit européen est le plus ouvert et le plus pur.”
Louise Weiss

“It is in Strasbourg that the European spirit is most open and purest.”
Louise Weiss

We sincerely hope we will be able to get together for some face to face session in August, however this is of course subject to regional and local COVID-19 rates, vaccinations and travel restrictions. As soon as we can we will be very much willing to welcome you all! And regardless our online content will go some way to you experience all we in Strasbourg have to offer.

Au plaisir de vous rencontrer très prochainement
Amicales salutations
